

Youth Conservation Camp

18th Annual Rivers Conservation and Fly Fishing Youth Camp
This is a wonderful opportunity for students ages 14-17 to learn more about watersheds and fish biology while also having fun learning about fly fishing and fly tying! In its 18th year, the Rivers Conservation and Fly Fishing Youth camp provides a multitude of experiences for participants. SPACE is limited to 32 qualified students. Some details are below. The full announcement is attached.
Where	Boiling Springs, PA (Allenberry Resort)
When	June 17-22, 2012
Who	Students ages 14-17
How	Students need to send an application by March 31, 2012
	Application: A letter from the student stating their interest in the camp. The student also needs a reference from a science teacher and/or a guidance counselor.
Cost	$350.00
	In the past, local Trout Unlimited chapters have helped students with the cost. If your local Trout Unlimited chapter is not interested in helping, other organizations may be interested in supporting the student (e.g. watershed associations, sportsmen groups). Even local businesses may be interested in helping if they see the application.

Wildlife Leadership Academy Schools
This academy gives Pennsylvania youth the tools to become conservation leaders in their home community. Summer 2012, students and a few teachers have the opportunity to participate in two great schools. All participants stay on-site and are immersed into the world of biology for an entire week!
When	The two schools being offered this year are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. PENNSYLVANIA BROOKIES focuses on trout July 10-14, 2012 at Sieg Conference Center Clinton County b. PENNSYLVANIA BUCKTAILS focuses on white-tailed deer JUNE 19-23, 2012 at Stone Valley Recreation Area Huntingdon County
Who	Students ages 14-17
How	More information and applications for the schools can be found here: http://www.picweb.org/p_WLA.html#fieldschool Youtube video about the academy: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pEWTtof1XBo
	Application: A letter from the student stating their interest in the camp. The student also needs a reference from a science teacher and/or a guidance counselor.
Cost	$500.00 per resident

DCNR Summer Environmental Careers Camp (Exploring Careers Outdoors Camp)
Young Pennsylvanians interested in pursuing environmental careers are invited to apply by April 1 for the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources' summer residential camp
When	July 8, 2012 (6 day camp)
Where	Kirby Episcopal House and Chapel, Glen Summit, Luzerne County
Who	20 to 25 students, grades 10-12
Cost	Free
Participants are exposed to a wide range of career experiences, including water quality assessments, geology field studies, and overnight camping experiences. They will also meet conservation professionals to learn about career opportunities.
Offered free of charge, the instruction and daily activities will be overseen by specialists and officials of DCNR's bureaus of State Parks, Forestry, and Topographic and Geologic Survey. After the camp, attendees will have a chance to seek internships, mentoring and job-shadowing positions, and can potentially return as future camp leaders.
How	http://www.dcnr.state.pa.us/stateparks/ecocamp/